

Cold Chain Practice-Note Awareness Training on 8 May 2021

On 8 May 2021, the HKLA Cold Chain Management Practice Note Awareness Training attracted more than 40 participants from different spectrum of logistics and supply chain sectors. The Practice Note project was funded by the Trade & Industrial Organisation Support Fund of HKSAR Government with the aim to sustain the development of cold chain management of Hong Kong. The Awareness Training was the stepping stone for interested practitioners to be trained as instructors or trainers for future cold chain management courses or programmes. Advanced courses, regarding implementation techniques and real case sharing, will be scheduled in August of this year. It is highly recommended for practitioners who would like to be qualified as the trainers or professionals of the cold chain management.

Ir. Stephen Chan
HKLA Honourable President & Honourable Advisor

HKLA has organized a seminar for members on “Cold Chain Practice-Note Awareness Training” and is glad to have Ir. Stephen Chan, Honourable President & Honourable Advisor to present talk on the subjects of “Cold Chain Practice-Note Awareness”. Stephen shared with the participants valuable knowledge about cold chain logistics operations and usage of Practice Notes for facilitating more effective and efficient for cold chain operations. There are more than 40 participants attending the seminar and their feedback was inspiring and informative. Q & A session was another highlight in the seminar. Thanks to Stephen and editorial team of cold chain practical note awareness training material, the participants appraised the seminar.
