Workshop Rundown on 28 Sept 2018 (Friday):

2:15 pm	Registration
2:30 pm ~ 2:40 pm	Welcome Speech  Mr. David LEE Chairman (2018 – 2020) The Institute of Purchasing & Supply of Hong Kong (IPSHK)
2:40 pm ~ 3:40 pm	Ms. Aditi Wanchoo Senior Manager, Development Partnership, Social & Environmental Affairs adidas  Human rights, child labour, environmental impacts and health and safety practices are just some of the ethical issues that organisations must consider when building their supply chains, especially when they extend beyond their own borders and into emerging markets. If they execute bad judgment in just one aspect, their reputation and financial future could be promptly shattered. Through sharing of real cases of adidas, you will be benefited from their valuable experiences in your planning and execution of ethical supply chain initiatives for your organisations with a higher chance of success.
3:40 pm ~ 4:20 pm	Mr. Stanley Chio Chief Corruption Prevention Officer, Corruption Prevention Department, ICAC  From ICAC's experience, procurement of goods and services is a business function vulnerable to corruption and malpractice. Corruption in the supply chain would not only bring financial losses to a company, but also adversely affect its reputation. The speaker will provide an overview of the relevant provisions of the Prevention of Bribery Ordinance (Cap. 201) and share some past cases to illustrate the common corruption risks and corresponding safeguards in procurement practices.
4:20 pm ~ 4:40 pm	Panel Discussion
4:40 pm ~ 5:00 pm	Closing &amp; networking

About the speakers:

Ms. Aditi Wanchoo

Senior Manager, Social & Environmental Affairs, adidas

Ms. Wanchoo leads the modern slavery outreach program at adidas to assess and address potential human rights risks for Adidas' upstream supply chain globally.

Previously, Aditi worked at Accenture in India (formerly Andersen Consulting) where she focused on shaping corporate thought and action to positively impact marginalized communities through Accenture's Corporate Citizenship program. During her eight-year tenure at Accenture, she was also responsible for leading business operations and client services for one of the firm's largest industry groups.

Aditi's experience over the past 16 years spans multiple industries from Financial Services to Media & Entertainment to Information Technology.

Her roles have ranged from implementing human resource management systems and establishing fundraising processes for Greenpeace, an international environmental nonprofit to leading the resource development function at Leonard Cheshire International, a global disability rights charity to generating advertising sales for a commercial radio station formerly managed by BBC worldwide.

Aditi holds a post graduate degree in Applied Psychology with a specialization in Organizational Behavior and Industrial Psychology. She is an Indian national who currently lives and works in Hong Kong.

Mr. Stanley Chio

Chief Corruption Prevention Officer, Corruption Prevention Department, ICAC

Mr. Chio joined ICAC as an Investigator in 2009. He is currently a Chief Corruption Prevention Officer of the Corruption Prevention Department. Mr. Chio holds degrees in laws and engineering. He has experience in investigation and advising government departments, public bodies and private organisations on corruption risks and preventive measures concerning their systems and procedures, including law enforcement, contract letting/administration and procurement practices.
