WELCOME MESSAGE

We can observe today that Smart Cities have entered a new phase. City planners and leaders are not only embracing digital solutions to improve the efficiency and functionality of their cities, but are also taking technologies directly into the lives of their residents thus providing a more liveable and responsive smart space.

In Malaysia, digital solutions have seamlessly moved into the development of our cities. The objective is to develop functional, resilient and sustainable cities that support economic competitiveness, social cohesion and environmental sustainability. If all these are achieved, Malaysians will enjoy a better quality of life.

There are several components to the Smart Cities. One of the goal is to use digital technologies to build a Smart Environment that is capable of providing improved and better system of transportation, utilities, education and healthcare that can reach out to all Malaysians.

Then, through Smart Governance, we will be embedding ICT such as Big Data, Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Blockchain into our public services that we envisage will increase efficiency, improve transparency and usage of data for better decisions and deliver a better quality of life.

Next is to usher in Smart Economy by creating a competitive, innovative and diverse economic market place.

Besides that, the promotion of Smart Living is to emphasise on low-carbon, safe and convenient living for all age groups. Finally, all this will lead to a group of Smart Citizens who are technologically skilful, flexible and resilient to the challenging circumstances.

I am pleased to note that Confexhub and Human Life Advancement Foundation will once again host the second edition of CITIES 4.0 Conference & Exhibition.

It should be able to provide an excellent platform for authorities and municipalities to enhance their knowledge on digital adoption and transformation.

In turn, global innovative technology and services providers will share their latest innovations and solutions that can help transform and enhance Malaysian cities. This I believe will facilitate co-operation and partnership building between Malaysian and regional companies.

On that note, I wish to extend a very warm welcome to all exhibitors, delegates and visitors. I hope you will find the CITIES 4.0 Conference & Exhibition fruitful and meaningful.

Thank you.

DR MAHATHIR BIN MOHAMAD

OVERVIEW

Unlocking Functional & Sustainable Cities for All

By 2050, over 70% of the world population will be living in cities covering less than 2% of the earth's surface. Never had city been so challenged and the trend continues to grow. And, this rise to many issues like rising inequality, environmental pollution, infrastructure access, traffic congestion, mobility, safety and health of residents are only a few examples.

Cities of the future should be hyper connectives, technologically equipped and smart; to improve the life of its residents. The development and combination of new technologies such as the Internet of Things, Big Data and Artificial Intelligence offer a multi and fast solution to transform cities to promote economic development, improve infrastructure & environment, enhance public services, engage with citizens and optimize costs of managing public assets.

Smart City utilises technologies and connected data sensors to enhance and become powerful in terms of infrastructure and city operations. This includes monitoring and managing of public assets, transportation systems, citizens, power plants, water supplies, information systems, civil bodies, and other community services. As per the new study from Navigant Research, the global market for smart city services is expected to reach $225.5 billion within the next decade.

The hosting of the second edition of Cities 4.0 in Kuala Lumpur is to provide an interactive platform for governments, municipalities, urban planners, developers, urban futurists, solution providers and innovators to converge and make positive impact in shaping resilient and sustainable cities.

Key themes of Cities 4.0

- Digital Transformation Big Data, IoT, Augmented Analytics, Digital Twins, Cyber Forensic, Privacy, Blockchain
- Smart Governance e-Government, Data Transparency, Public Safety
- Smart Economy Cashless City, Machine learning, Smart Space, Connected Factories
- Smart Environment Infrastructure, Connectivity, Transportation, Water & Waste, Energy
- Smart Living Smart Home, Ride Share, Autonomous, Smart Wearables, Smart Health
- Smart Citizen Inclusion, Engagement, Immerse Experience

This will be the best place for city leaders and business innovators to connect and collaborate in planning and implementing successful smart city projects.
